

The mission of Hope Scarves is to share scarves, stories and hope with people facing cancer.

ABOUT

Hi, I'm Lara MacGregor, founder of Hope Scarves.

I was 30 years old and seven months pregnant when I was first diagnosed with breast cancer.

A survivor mailed me a box of scarves with a note saying, "You can do this." This gesture later became my inspiration for creating Hope Scarves. I want every woman who wears a Hope Scarf to feel the strength of the women who faced cancer before her... like I felt with my first scarves.

Seven years later I was diagnosed with metastatic breast cancer.

I realized that scarves and stories are inspiring, but won't save lives. So we expanded our mission to include a Metastatic Breast Cancer Research Fund. A portion of each dollar raised goes to research, or you can give directly to this fund.

HOW IT WORKS

Request a scarf. You can request a scarf for free for yourself or a loved one, or make a donation by visiting hopescarves.org/request.

Wear the hope. Every scarf is sent with a personal story from a survivor, scarf-tying instructions, and information on Hope Scarves.

Return your scarf. When you're ready to pass your scarf to the next woman, return it to us and submit your story. We'll professionally dry clean the scarf and package it with your story. Visit hopescarves.org/return.

Become a partner. Hospitals and other support organizations share Hope Scarves directly with people facing cancer. To find out more about becoming an official partner, visit hopescarves.org/partner.

SUPPORT HOPE SCARVES

Share your story. No bond is greater than the connection of common ground. Please share your story, whether or not you participate in the scarf program. Share your inspiration at hopescarves.org/share.

Donate scarves. Whether you hold a community scarf drive, encourage a loved one, or send in your personal scarf, you can help us sustain our scarf collection and meet increasing requests. Visit hopescarves.org/scarves-stories/donate-scarf.

Contribute. Hope Scarves is a nonprofit organization that depends on our community of supporters. Join us at hopescarves.org/donate.

Shop. To sport an exclusive Echo Design signature scarf, or browse other creative Hope Scarves items, visit hopescarves.org/shop.
